

2018/19 ANNUAL REPORT

SAL is one of the most intellectually engaging and vibrant institutions in Seattle.”

2018/19 SAL PATRON

If 2017/18 was a stepping stone year as our 30th anniversary, then 2018/19 was a leaping-off year. We were thrilled to make terrific strides in the second year of our Vision 2020—a strategic plan that is fundamentally designed to welcome more people into deep, shared community conversations inspired by the outstanding, thoughtful writers we bring to our stages and classrooms.

We expanded and deepened community engagement by ensuring that we provided 10% of SAL tickets at very low or no cost to community members who otherwise could not afford to purchase tickets, introducing our new Journalism Series, and celebrating the first full season of SAL’s literary podcast, SAL/on air, providing free access to SAL’s best author talks from our 31-year history. We also welcomed many new voices to SAL stages—more than 70% of the writers we presented identify as people of color, LGBTQ, and/or women. And over 900 people joined in the fun of our beloved free Summer Book Bingo program, reading 16,000+ books—more than ever before!

We also expanded the impact of our youth programs on students’ lives, especially students without access to arts programs.

In 2018/19, our Writers in the Schools (WITS) program served nearly 5,700 K-12 students. And our new multi-tiered school fee structure made it possible for ten under-resourced schools serving high numbers of low-income students to be a part of WITS, including four first-time partner schools. As a result, at least 40% of WITS students were in low-income families and/or extended hospital stays.

We are so proud to bring our community together to be inspired and challenged by the stories of writers of all ages as they address the most important issues of our time. And we’re profoundly grateful to you—the generous supporters and partners and readers who made it all possible!

With abundant thanks,

YOUTH PROGRAMS

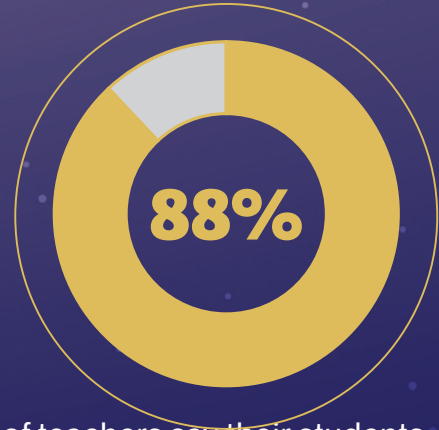

SAL's program Writers in the Schools (WITS) matches professional creative writers with local K-12 public schools for extended classroom creative writing residencies. Students discover the power of their creative voices as they develop essential writing skills. Our Seattle Youth Poet Laureate program elevates the voices of local youth committed to civic and community engagement as well as poetry and performance.
