On this street,
if you listen hard enough when it's rainy outside you can hear the storm clouds whispering their fearless stories to you.

On this street,
if you watch hard enough, when it's night outside you can see the light on the other side of the world.

On this street
if you're patient enough, you can see the sun fall in the East

On this street
if you're worthy of heart, you can walk up the old, creaky steps that lead up to the old, grey house and if you close your eyes hard enough you can see the old man smiling because of the calm energy on this street.

My street.
