

Ahlaam Abdullahi

Roxhill Elementary School | 5th Grade

Cotton Candy Sky

In the morning when y'all wake up and look outside and stare out the window you see the light baby blue and the pastel pink and the creamy beigish white Wait a second take a moment look and stare at the Yumminess of the Sky then you crave for cotton candy you just wanna eat the Fluffiness of the clouds The light baby blue may remind you of the shimmering crystal sea and the Rosey Pastel Pink can make you remember beautiful Flower Fields of pink tulips the creamy white can refresh your mind and make you think about the soft vanilla ice cream let the fresh air in your lungs take a moment take a breath under a cherry blossom tree see the leaves forming an oval shape beautiful like a dream like cotton candy! You just Feel the rough bushes tickling your arm with a
Flower
On Your Head

seattle arts & lectures