

Evered Scott

ORCA K-8 School | 6th Grade

Burnt Tree

a burnt tree
speaks of
sorrow, a piece
of pain,
a burnt
tree
shows
the pain
felt
in one
go.

Tree

when you look at
a dead tree
Look closely it will show a
dead dream,
an open book
that was closed, a
book that someone gave up on
now don't just give up—try and
show what you can do.

This broadside was created in celebration of Seattle Arts & Lectures' 2024-25 Writers in the Schools Year End Reading.
eli lin was the supporting WITS writer in residence.