

Maya Klein

Lafayette Elementary School | 4th Grade

Home

A home is a shelter to stay warm or cold
Family are loved ones
A room is a safe place to hide in and love
A bed is a place to dream
A forest is a place to imagine and draw
A tree is a place to climb and pretend to be tarzan
The day is a time to play and get wet
The night is a time to calm down and think and think what's next?
A paper is a thing to write on and savor
A river is a place to swim and splash
But when the grass turns brown and the trees are bare it's time to do warmer things but still give and share Stay inside by the tree's glow with hot chocolate in hand People and creatures trying to stay warm all over the land
And suddenly the flowers are blooming and the trees full of color
The days of fun for one another
This is my home

