Let is for Everybody

Let the people have some fun,
Let people be themselves.
You are only the boss of you, not of everybody else.
Let people love BFFs, so they can let each other let it show!
Let people show themselves through the stage and never be afraid,
Let your friends be themselves cause usually they love themselves.
Let yourself be more safe, be more loved and take the way,
You and your friends say "hello!" to each other.
Let your parents love you, care for you because they will always protect you.
Let your siblings have some fun and take a break,
Let your soulmate see you one day to have some fun and always play.
Let yourself show your feelings to feel happy– just today.
Let yourself be, come on now, say, "I'm lovely!"
